

Classic Recital website evolves as a mailing list

There is now an email list for people interested in live classic music in Exeter.

This is part of a website promoting a recital in the Music Room at Exeter Central Library on Thursday the 22nd March at 7.30pm. This will feature Sara Trickey (violin), Chris Willis (piano), and works by Chopin, Beethoven, Kreisler and Ravel.

The website is at

<http://www.acrobat-services.co.uk/inxpress/saratrickey>

The email address is music.room@eudoramail.com

The idea is to try to build a list of people who want to know about live music so it is easier to promote events. The Music Room has an excellent piano and seats up to 100. If there were 500 people prepared to receive messages it would be possible to arrange something at fairly short notice.

The website is maintained by Acrobat Services and demonstrates ways to use PDF. Until recently the Exeter Sneakernet has offered a way to produce hard copy within walking distance of Hyperactive Café. As email is better known the scope has expanded to include the web.

Note for editors

Later this week there may be statements from Sara Trickey and/or Chris Willis in support of the mailing list idea. There will also be photographs, possibly some on Thursday. A 'press' section will be added to the website soon so please check back.

The 'inxpress' part of the url refers to Internet Express, a previous name for the site now used by Hyperactive Café. There may be more on this later.
